

Visiting Social Sciences Librarian

The Gumberg Library at Duquesne University seeks a collaborative, self-motivated, and service-oriented librarian for the position of Visiting Social Sciences Librarian. This is a 12-month visiting library faculty appointment available July 1, 2017.

The Visiting Social Sciences Librarian supports Duquesne University's mission by working closely with faculty and students to provide proactive research support and innovative instruction. In addition to providing research assistance at the service desk and online, teaching in the library's information literacy program, and recommending social sciences resources, the position will collaboratively support researchers by participating in advanced literature reviews and by assisting faculty to document the impact of their scholarship through bibliometric analysis.

Duquesne University is committed to attracting, retaining and developing a diverse faculty that reflects contemporary society, serves our academic mission and enriches our campus community.

For the complete job description and application instructions visit: apply.interfolio.com/41933

Candidates applying by May 25, 2017 will be given first consideration