Library Director / Utica Public Library / Utica, NY / Apply by 11/1 / Utica Public Library Position Announcement Library Director, Utica Public Library: The Board of Trustees of the Utica Public Library seeks a creative and innovative leader as its next Library Director to work strategically with Trustees, staff, residents and community organizations in creating a shared vision for future library services and programs. The Library is located in Utica New York (www.cityofutica.com), in the foothills of the Adirondacks (population 65,000) and has a $1.2 million annual budget. The new director must have the ability and the desire to work with the Library's Board of Trustees, library staff (15 full & 10 part-time), and government officials in developing a workable team approach to advancing the library as a keystone institution for Utica. In particular the next Director will work with the Board of Trustees on the next phase of a new children & youth facility, along with updating the Library's strategic plan. Responsibilities: The Library Director will provide leadership for all day to day operations of the Library, including budgeting, strategic planning, advocacy, personnel, public relations, fund development, physical plant, technology management, marketing & community relations. and assessment. The Director will assist the Board of Trustees in developing library policies and will be responsible for their implementation. As Director of the Central Library of the Mid-York Library System, the Director will work closely with system headquarters and member libraries to develop effective strategies and programs for the Library and its constituents. The Director will also engage the community and City/County officials in program planning and implementation and manage the library in accordance with policies established by the Library Board of Trustees. The Director provides counsel to the Library Board, proposes and implements policy under the Board's direction, supervises the work of the Library staff, and collaborates with other agencies and community groups and members to meet the information needs of various constituencies. Qualifications: An ALA-accredited Master's Degree, a New York State public library certificate, and a minimum of five years of progressively responsible experience in management and supervision are required. The ideal candidate will have extensive knowledge of library practices, management techniques, collection development, and technology applications and experience working and communicating effectively in a culturally diverse community. Demonstrated ability to establish and maintain effective working relationships with elected officials, advisory boards, all levels of employees, diverse community groups, and citizens is expected. Other desired characteristics include experience in successfully securing funding for programs and services and experience in planning and presenting the Library's long-term equipment, facilities, and staffing needs. A strong commitment to public service and high quality customer service delivery is necessary. Successful experience working with a policy-making board and collaborating with elected officials is highly desirable. Compensation: The starting salary range for the position is $75,000-$85,000 (with placement within the range dependent on experience and qualifications) with an excellent benefits package, including membership in the NYS Retirement System. Applications: Submit a cover letter, resume, and contact information for three references to directorsearch@uticapubliclibrary.org no later than November 1, 2016.
