

Middle School Librarian

Department: Middle School

Location: Washington, DC

Position Start Date: August 20, 2018

Status: Full-time

Sidwell Friends, a coeducational Quaker day school in N.W. Washington, DC, seeks an experienced librarian to manage the daily operations of its Middle School (Grades 5-8) library. The Librarian oversees circulation and reference services, cataloging, subscriptions, and student behavior while generally preserving the library as a productive and welcoming space. He or she will manage a staff of one assistant and work on a daily basis with faculty, students and members of the Information Services team to support the development of traditional and digital literacy. The Librarian also teaches a variety of skills to students, including direct instruction of research skills. The successful candidate will be warm, approachable and able to communicate and actualize a vision of what information services and literacy mean in the 21st century.

An MLS or equivalent and a minimum of three years of experience as a school librarian and/or Middle School teaching are strongly preferred. Experience as a teaching librarian at the middle school level is strongly preferred. An appreciation for the School's commitment to academic and personal excellence, Quaker values and the prizing of diversity and environmental stewardship is essential. This position starts August, 2018.

Interested applicants should submit a resume, a cover letter explaining how he/she would be a good match for these criteria, and contact information for three references via our on-line application.
