Online Searcher / Information Today, Inc. / Virtual / We have two vacancies for columnists for Online Searcher magazine, which is published by Information Today, Inc. As the magazine heads into its 43rd (!) year of publication, we are looking for a columnist to cover sci/tech research/emerging technologies and another for the book review column. Online Searcher is written for librarians by librarians. It has a long history of providing practical information, advice, and critiques about all aspects of online and web searching, electronic resources, information management, and trends. Details about the publication are at www.infotoday.com/onlineresearcher . We do pay our columnists, although it's not a lot of money. Writing for Online Searcher is a great way to share your knowledge and, in the case of the book reviewer, to get free books. If you're interested, or would like to know more, you can contact me at marydee@xmission.com or at +1 317 876.8100.

Librarian 416 461 8252 x. 2723

APPLY (Hyperlink): Volunteering Assistant <Volunteering.Assistant@sinaihealthsystem.ca>

OVERVIEW:

The volunteer supports the librarian in the daily operations of the Patient and Family Library. Volunteer involvement is vital to the library's mission. The Patient and Family Library provides a range of resources and services for inpatients, outpatients, and their friends and family. In addition to a physical space with computers and books, Library staff and volunteers visit all hospital units with collections of print and electronic materials (books, iPads). This service provides patients, families and volunteers the opportunity to interact at the point-of-care and respond to the information and recreational needs of the patient population. ACTIVITIES: Volunteers will be supported by the Librarian. Duties may include:

- Assist patients and families in using health and recreational collections and services
- Visit patients and families at the bedside
- Assist patients and families in using computers and tablets
- Locate reliable and easy to understand health information resources for patients and families
- Assist with the acquisition, maintenance, and processing of library collections
- Maintain daily usage statistics
- Maintain and develop health information displays and library promotional materials
- Assist with special events, outreach activities and new services
