Records Management Facilitator / US Fish and Wildlife Service / Honolulu, HI / Apply by 1/10 / Records Management Facilitator Internship, This application is for the Honolulu intern position. The deadline for applications will close on January 10, 2020 and will be chosen no later than January 30, 2020. SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Marine Monuments of the Pacific Office, located in Honolulu, Hawaii is looking for two Records Management Facilitators to assist in organizing our holdings. Our offices have extensive historical files spanning decades, which document the management, political history, and scientific research surrounding 22 national wildlife refuges and 4 marine national monuments throughout the Pacific. The collections consist of analog and digital records, maps, photographs, and other mixed media. Two interns will be stationed at the Honolulu office. We are looking for conscientious, resourceful, and motivated information professionals to become our in-house experts. The records management facilitators will be responsible for following a records schedule, organizing and digitizing files, keeping a records inventory, and disposing of files accordingly. You will gain hands-on experience with electronic records, preservation, digitization, metadata, records management, and content management systems. You will also gain experience prioritizing tasks, collaborating with others, establishing guidelines, and training other staff in records management tasks. Many responsibilities of the rotation will be distributed between the interns. The Honolulu interns will prioritize the big-picture potential of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service records room. For example, they will continue the goal of creating a sustainable filing system. They will also work together to digitize and purge records, as well as maintain the online catalog of U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service references. Other tasks include digitizing maps, downloading content from CDs and DVDs, and generally working to decrease the volume of mixed media accumulated in the records room. QUALIFICATIONS: Required: Enrolled or recently graduated from an ALA accredited MLIS program or related graduate program. Ability to work independently and make well-researched decisions with limited supervision. Superb organizational and planning skills. Ability to recognize inefficiencies and recommend practical solutions. Ability to balance theory and idealism with fiscal and logistical limitations in a non-traditional information setting. Ability to use excel and Microsoft suite programs. Experience with archival content management platforms. Adhere to established guidelines and policies both professional and organizational. Work experience in archival science or records management. Preferred: Experience with scanning equipment and Adobe Acrobat. Experience with records retention and disposition schedules. An interest in environmental issues, biology, or conservation. Experience cataloging or working with metadata. SCHEDULE: A 6-month, full-time (40 hrs/week) schedule is preferred. The start date for this position would be between March 2-6, 2020. COMPENSATION: The internship is unpaid; please see below information for travel coverage. Depending on your school's program requirements, you may be able to receive credit for this internship. TRAVEL AND LODGING: the Service will provide roundtrip airfare to and from Honolulu, including reimbursement for luggage, if necessary. We also provide compensation for public transportation to and from work via reimbursement for a monthly bus pass. A monthly food stipend will be provided as well. Housing is provided at a communal agency bunkhouse, if needed. The bunkhouse can accommodate up to seven people in Honolulu. Please consider your ability to handle a constantly changing environment. The Honolulu bunkhouse is located in walking distance from Waikiki and is a 30 minute bus ride from work. SURROUNDINGS: Our office is located in downtown Honolulu and the agency bunkhouse is located about half an hour away by bus, near the Waikiki neighborhood. Bunkhouse residents enjoy the convenience of nearby grocery stores, drugstores, coffee shops, and library. There are many great restaurants and plenty of outdoor activities to participate in throughout Oahu. Weekends, holidays, and off hours can be spent exploring Hawaii. Opportunities abound to kayak, surf, fish, stand-up paddleboard, swim, snorkel, and enjoy the many beaches, parks, hiking trails, historical landmarks, and gardens. BACKGROUND: The mission of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is working with others to conserve, protect, and enhance fish, wildlife, plants, and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. The National Wildlife Refuge System, managed by the Service, is the world's premier system of public lands and waters set aside to conserve America's fish, wildlife, and plants. The Records Management Facilitators will make a difference for some of the world's most remarkable and unique natural resources as our office continues to accomplish great things in the Pacific. APPLICATION PROCESS: To apply, send an attached resume, brief cover letter and two to three references to Mike Marxen at mike_marxen@fws.gov, Please have the subject of the email state "RMF Honolulu Application". The deadline for applications will close on January 10, 2020. Marine National Monuments of the Pacific Office, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 300 Ala Moana Blvd., Suite 5-231, Honolulu, HI 96850, (808) 792-9484.

Wayne State Graduate Internship, Spring 2020 / Detroit Historical Society / Detroit, MI / Apply by 1/31 / Philip P. Mason Graduate Archival Internship, Spring Term 2020 Hosted by the Detroit Historical Society. Funding provided by the Prismatic Foundation. This internship is open to Wayne State University graduate students wishing to gain practical experience in archival practices and management. To be considered, applicants must be currently enrolled in a relevant track (i.e., history, public history, library science, archival management, anthropology), and have their advisor's approval for the appropriate class credit. The project involves processing material donated to the collection last year. This includes letters, photographs and ephemera. The student will learn how to enter this material into a Past Perfect database, digitize and interpret this material, and store the physical and digital artifacts properly. While this is an archival internship, the appropriate candidate should also have interest in the workings of a public history organization. The program will involve research, writing, cataloging, and interpretation. Final deliverables regarding hours, reports, and grading will align with the internship program requirements of the applicant's major. Internship supervisor will be Joel Stone, DHS Senior Curator, with direction provided by a variety of archival and curatorial staff. The bulk of activity will take place at the Collections Resource Center (CRC) located at Historic Fort Wayne. Because of road closures due to bridge construction in the area, public transportation has been disrupted. Alternate transportation is suggested. This internship is named in honor of Dr. Philip Mason, an accomplished professor at WSU, and founder of the Walter P. Reuther Library of Labor and Urban Affairs. This position pays the student $15 per hour up to 130 hours, with funding provided by the Prismatic Foundation and the Detroit Historical Society. To apply for this position, please send the following to Joel Stone, Detroit Historical Society, 5401 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, MI 48202 –Cover Letter explaining current course of study, related experience, and reason for interest in the internship, One letter of recommendation, ideally from an advisor or instructor., Deadline for application is 4:00pm EST, Friday, January 31, 2020. Applications received after that time will not be considered.
