Business/Social Sciences Data Librarian / The University at Buffalo / Buffalo, NY / The University at Buffalo Libraries seek a creative, energetic and service-oriented Business/Social Sciences Data Librarian to provide research and teaching support to the faculty, students and researchers in the School of Management (SOM) and the broader academic community. Accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), UB's School of Management is recognized for its emphasis on real-world learning, community and economic impact, and the global perspective of its faculty, students and alumni. This is a 12-month, tenure-track faculty appointment at the rank of Senior Assistant Librarian in an academic research-oriented environment with expectations for research, publication and participation in professional associations. The Business/Social Sciences Data Librarian provides general and specialized information and data literacy instruction and reference services to faculty and students in support of the SOM's teaching and research activities, including support of the school's continuing and distance education programs. The incumbent collaborates with SOM faculty on curricular and research needs and recommends appropriate library resources and information technology to integrate into the curriculum. S/he develops, evaluates, and manages electronic and print collections, including data sets, that support the teaching and research needs of the SOM and social sciences researchers. The Business/Social Sciences Data Librarian collaborates with other librarians to help develop, coordinate and provide access to a suite of social science data collections and services that meet campus needs. The incumbent will demonstrate an understanding of evolving issues in higher education, librarianship; business and management; digital scholarship; social science data; and government information and have the ability to engage the campus in meaningful discussions on these issues. In addition, s/he educates the SOM faculty, staff and students on scholarly communications issues. Active participation in the Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences team and on other library and university-wide committees, task forces, special projects and initiatives is expected. Some evening and weekend hours are part of the regular work schedule. A Master's degree in library and information science from an ALA-accredited institution and two years of relevant experience as a librarian are required. To view the complete job description, including the minimum and preferred qualifications, and to apply for the position, please use the UBJobs website: <https://www.ubjobs.buffalo.edu>; search for posting number 1600082. Please note the application requirements under the special instructions to applicants section. Review of applicants is currently underway. The position will be filled by June 30, 2016. The University at Buffalo is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. The University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse and pluralistic University community committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment.
