Description: Are you a library student looking for a unique opportunity to work in an international school library? Dulwich College Suzhou is looking for a new library intern for the 2017-2018 school year. The 2017-2018 school will be the fourth year we have offered the intern program, which has enabled both of our previous library interns to transition into their own international school libraries. This is an active position at a prestigious British school for expat children living in China. The intern will work closely with our two librarians, our library assistants, our teachers, and of course, our students. This is truly an incredible opportunity for an adventurous, future-librarian. You will work hard, but the experience and opportunities to advance your library career are priceless. Opened in 2007, Dulwich College Suzhou is located 100 km (50 miles) from Shanghai and has approximately 930 PreK-12 students. There are two separate libraries on the Dulwich campus, and the intern would work in both libraries throughout the school day, M-F. There are also some light evening duties (shared) in our student boarding house. In brief, intern benefits include airfare, health insurance, visa, accommodations (dorm), and pocket money. The intern will work primarily in the libraries but will also have other duties within the school dorm. Interested candidates must have a Bachelor's Degree and an interest in working in international libraries. Teaching and library experience are helpful but not required. As all our students speak English, Chinese language skills are not required. Interested candidates can email me directly at leigh.collazo@dulwich-suzhou.cn.
