Director/ Mississippi County Library System, headquartered in / Blytheville, AR / Apply by 5/30 / is accepting resumes for its director position, due to the resignation of its current director. Mississippi County is located in the northeast corner of Arkansas and has a population of approximately 44,000. The county borders Missouri to the north and Tennessee to the east; Jonesboro, AR and Memphis, TN are about one hour away. The library serves Mississippi County with its headquarters library in Blytheville, a full-service library in Osceola, and four part-time branches located in smaller communities. Its budget is approximately $900,000. The ideal candidate for director will possess the MLS degree from an ALA-accredited library school. He or she will have a minimum of 5 years post-MLS experience in the library field (preferably in public libraries) and a minimum of 3 years supervisory experience. We seek an energetic, capable person who is willing to take on new tasks and responsibilities. This person will represent the library to local government and community groups and is expected to participate in the broader library community on a statewide and national level. A starting salary of $60,000, depending on qualifications, is anticipated. Health insurance, dental and retirement benefits are included. The library is an equal opportunity employer. Resumes, with three professional references, are being accepted on an ongoing basis, with preference given to those received by May 31, 2017. Resumes may be emailed to kbarron@mclibrary.net or mailed to 320 West Hale Avenue, Osceola, AR 72370. Direct all phone calls seeking further information to 870-822-0260.
