The project will explore the possibilities for the abstracting and indexing of African published academic journals held at MSU. The objectives for this project are the following: To identify the African serial publications not previously indexed held by Michigan State University. To determine the titles to be indexed and abstracted in the pilot project. To ascertain the timeframes necessary for digitization based on various factors (printing quality, etc.). To establish workflows for the indexing and abstracting of serials. To explore the possibilities for database creation. To create pathways for a large scale digitization project for the indexing and abstracting of African serial publications. The graduate intern will be responsible for completing the objectives of this project under the supervision of, and in coordination with, the African Studies Librarian. The intern will also liaise with a number of different stakeholders in the MSU Library, including technical services and cataloging, digitization, information technology and web services, and metadata librarians, among others. This project has been funded through Title VI funds, coordinated by the Cooperative Africana Materials Program (CAMP), a Center for Research Libraries cooperative program. Results and recommendations of the pilot will be reported at the Africana Librarians Council meeting in November 2017. Minimum Qualifications: Graduate student in a library science program. Desired Qualifications: Coursework in African Studies. Closing Date: 5pm on Friday, July 28th, 2017. Special Instructions to Applicants: Please send a cover letter and resume to Jessica Achberger, African Studies Librarian, at achberg2@msu.edu.

Curator / Temple Beth El / Bloomfield Hills, MI / Temple Beth El Bloomfield Hills, Michigan Curator, Job Description: Temple Beth El (TBE) is looking for an experienced and knowledgeable individual to oversee our various collections, and share these incredible resources through displays and programming throughout the year. The Curator will serve as Director of both the Rabbi Leo M. Franklin Archives and the Prentis Family Library. Our Temple Curator is a full-time professional who will report directly to the Program Director. The Curator will work closely with clergy, staff, and lay committees to manage and expand our collections, and set the programmatic direction for these vital areas of Temple life. This is an extraordinary opportunity to join a wonderful team, and to build two successful programs into a cohesive and vibrant future. Responsibilities will include, but not be limited to: Collect, arrange, preserve, and make accessible the Archives Collection, including the administrative and congregational records and symbolic objects of Temple Beth El, along with those that document the history of our surrounding Jewish community. Maintain (and expand, as necessary) the current library collection, and manage circulation of books and other resource materials to the Temple community. Determine best practice and then implement the Library's utilization of various resources, including technological ones. Plan, promote, and evaluate programming for the Library and Archives. This includes several successful and longstanding programs: Book Club, Mary Einstein Shapero Memorial Lecture, and Jewish History Detective Series ... as well as creating new initiatives and programs to appeal to the Temple and broader Jewish community. Act as Liaison between Temple staff and both the Library and Archives Committees in order to encourage a more active Library/Archives, set policy (approved by the Temple's Executive Director and/or Board), raise necessary funds to support Library/Archives projects, and make sure the Library/Archives is meeting congregants' expectations. Recruit, train, and manage volunteers to help with both Library and Archives. Respond to requests from Temple staff, members, the community, and researchers. Serve as a resource for teachers, parents, and students in our Religious School and Early Childhood Center. Promote the Temple's Library and Archives to Temple members, to the broader Jewish community, and even to the surrounding community. Work as part of the Temple staff to create, promote, and support broader Temple events and initiatives, even beyond the Library/Archives. Skills and Qualifications: Appropriate degree and/or certification in Library Science, Archival Management, or related field, Experience working in an Archives and/or Library setting. Proficiency with computers and technological acumen, especially as appropriate for Archives and Library use, Demonstrate excellence in organizational skills, creativity, written and verbal communication, and strategic planning, Ability to manage timelines and budgets effectively, For more information, or to apply for this position, please contact: Kim Raznik, Executive Director, Temple Beth El, kraznik@tbeonline.org, 248-851-1100.
