Library Intern (Technical Support Specialist) / Washington, DC/ Apply by 7/17/Technical Support Specialist (Contractor, Basic) STATEMENT OF WORK BACKGROUND The United States Naval Observatory (USNO) Library is one of the most comprehensive astronomical collections in the United States. The USNO Library supports scientific activities, research, and education through visionary executive leadership and expertise in astronomical information, scholarly communication, and knowledge management. The physical collection includes over 90,000 print volumes, scientific research journals in multiple languages as well as a rare book collection, historical artifacts, original papers, and books dating back to 1482. The Library responds to information requests from staff at 2 locations, through interlibrary loan (ILL) and through an online portal. SCOPE USNO is seeking a Technical Support Specialist to support our collection management efforts. A qualified candidate is expected to have some library or collections related experience, either academic or professional. The candidate will be expected to work on projects both independently and in concert with current library staff on projects developed by both library staff and the Technical Support Specialist. The candidate will have the opportunity to work with material dating from 1800 to modern day with duties ranging from shelving to processing 19th century archival material to organizing photograph collections. REQUIREMENTS: Support library staff with collection management duties. Review catalog metadata for accuracy. Perform pre- and post-processing duties as needed. Re-house fragile material. Respond to phone and email requests for information, data or outside resources. Manage the physical collections with re-shelving and shifting. Access metadata systems in order to fulfill information requests. Prepare journals and reports for the bindery process. BASIC QUALIFICATIONS (REQUIRED):

1+ years academic or educational experience in libraries or collection management. Ability to lift up to 40 lbs. Must have and be able to maintain a SECRET clearance. Experience using Word, Excel, and Access. Excellent communication skills: written, verbal, telephone, and email. PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS (DESIRABLE): Professional experience in a library setting. Background / interest in science in general, and physics / astronomy in particular, and library science. Please contact Morgan Aronson, Librarian, for more information and to apply. Send application material, including resume and cover letter, to morgan.aronson@navy.mil. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis.
